Remember; There is no rank among us, for each serves as the equal of his comrade; and all strive toward the same goal, which is the realization in the life of the Republic of the ideals of Justice, Freedom, Democracy and Loyalty.

Independence Day July 4th, a day our nation's freedom and liberty became a reality when a new nation was born. Celebrate responsibly and with respect to those around you. Take a moment to know your surroundings before you start drinking or igniting fireworks. your celebration can affect others. A DUI can kill an innocent life while fireworks can bring on PTSD. Be responsible, be respectful, be safe and enjoy our independence.

Post 2000 was sought out to assist with Vietnam Veterans of Loveland High School (LHS). The LHS Vietnam Veterans are having their own Vietnam memorial to never forget those who served during this war era from Loveland. They are currently working with the Loveland Parks department in order to have its own place of honor with the other war era memorial at the South end of Loveland Burial Park.

You can now RENEW for 2022 year

Believe it or not you can renew 6 months in advance to avoid those annoying repeated notices. Its not the Post who send those notices out, its automatically generated by National headquarters. If you want to avoid those notices then renew early. The process can take time. The current membership renewal system is not automated.

Got a friend who wants to Join? Do them a favor and get them an additional 6 months of membership free with their new 2022-year membership card. By your actions of getting 3 new members, you are eligible to receive a National Commander pin. The post can only grow with new members, and who better to join than a friend.

Congratulations to Skip Vonkaenal

This past COVID year Skip and his wife Andrea Vonkaenal produced a large number of handmade facemasks that were handed out at a recruiting event for the American Legion. They had also made a huge contribution to the Loveland veterans assistance fund.

VA to automatically review thousands of 'Blue Water' Navy claims

By: Staff Writer/Dan and Steve
The Department of Veterans Affairs is reviewing thousands of rejected claims from Vietnam War veterans who were denied benefits but may now be entitled to service-connected compensation.

Under court order the VA started reviewing last week the 60,000 claims for Agent Orange exposure that veterans who served offshore during the Vietnam War. These former sailors served aboard ships in the open waters of the coast of Vietnam and have long contended they were exposed to chemical herbicides through the ships' water systems. The chemical herbicides have been found to cause respiratory cancers, Parkinson's disease and heart disease, as well as other conditions.

Congress passed legislation in 2019 that entitled these veterans, known as "Blue Water" Navy veterans, to government benefits. The U.S. District Court of the Maritime District of California decided in November that the VA must review these claims retroactively. Veterans who were denied benefits but may now be entitled to service-connected compensation.

"This review provides an extra layer of protection for their health and safety," said a VA spokesman. "It's a good thing that the VA is doing this. It's a good thing that the VA is doing this. It's a good thing that the VA is doing this."

The agencies have been making a "backlog" of claims that accumulated during the coronavirus pandemic. Murphy said Congress last week that the backlog was likely to "hit an epic" in August, in part because of the large volume of Blue Water Navy claims.

In its budget request to Congress, the VA asked for more full-time employees to help review these claims.

the health care and benefits they've earned," said Sen. Jon Tester (D-Mont., chairman of the Senate Veterans' Affairs Committee).

Since Blue Water Navy veterans became eligible for VA benefits in 2019, the
